

Kids' Flute

BLKF100 pentatonic
BLKF200 diatonic

A flute for children has to be solid and suitable for small fingers. Plus it should be made from a natural material and pleasant for the ear, especially that of adults.

These children's flutes made by workshops in Leipzig, Germany, and in Hungary fulfil all those demands. They have a simple but appealing design and are inexpensive. The flutes are about 10cm long and have a leather strap to hang around the neck. They are tuned either pentatonic or diatonic and offer a very pure sound. The recorder need not be the first instrument to allow a kid to discover the music world.

They give joy to young and old as they can be taken easily on walks and journeys.
