Chimes

The wind likes to play whether be it in our hair, with autumn leaves or in the twigs of the trees. If you hang some melodious chimes he likes to play with them too, and elicits from them wonderful subtle sounds surprising our ears.

Wind Chimes – a play of nature with manmade instruments. Whether high ringing gentle tones or low sonorous ones, we always look for the source of this melodious magic with surprise and joy. They have found a place in gardens, on balconies or terraces, in rooms and corridors. They welcome us when we open a door or deliver a soft message of wind, warmth and light from outside.

The choice of models is manifold as sound artists incessantly try to create new and even more beautiful wind chimes. There are some made only from metal which play brilliant, high and wide in distantly audible tones. Others consist of long and thick tubes with wooden balls striking them. They charm us with warm sounds rich in overtones. Again there are chimes made completely from wood or bamboo – they rattle cheerfully. The choice is vast; just visit us and discover yourself which sound charms your ears best.

Shanti Wind Chimes from the Pyrenees: Our bestseller. Their speciality is that the chimes are hidden inside a cylinder box, hence they surprise everyone who touches them. Their sounds are subtle and harmonious. Each one is made by hand and decorated with imaginative colours and patterns. These chimes perfectly create a melodious background for improvisation, story telling, plays and many other events according to your imagination.
